Vertical Multi Stage Pump

ERIKS know-how assists furniture manufacturer

ISSUE

A manufacturer of kitchen furniture contacted their local ERIKS branch to request assistance with sourcing a replacement to an obsolete vertical multistage pump.

A local competitor had advised that the unit was obsolete and the new unit would require alterations to pipework.

SOLUTION

ERIKS Pump Technology were able to use their excellent knowledge of the products available, to source a pump that was not only interchangeable but with the added benefits of a new design which made the pump more efficient.

OTHER BENEFITS

- The new pump offered the end user the benefits of reduced energy costs and also limited disruption on site

FURTHER COMMENTS...

By proving to our customer a good knowledge of pumping systems we are able to advise on a wide array of systems, identifying the right product for the system/application and advising on potential cost savings.
